OKLAHOMA CITY – The Journal Record has announced its 2023 Oklahoma's Most Admired CEOs & Financial Stewardship Award honorees.

Forty-one Most Admired CEO selections, as well as the four financial stewardship award recipients, will be recognized at the 14th annual Oklahoma's Most Admired CEOs and Financial Stewardship Awards event on Monday, April 24 at the Skirvin Hilton hotel in Oklahoma City.

CEOs and CFOs are honored in three categories – public company, private company and nonprofit. An overall winner will be chosen from each category and announced during the event.

"Over the past few years, leaders have been challenged in unprecedented ways," said Journal Record Editor Joe Dowd. "The CEOs and CFOs we are honoring in 2023 have shown courage and confidence, humility and wisdom, in the ways they have led their companies. They have also made indelible marks on the Oklahoma business community."

All honorees will be profiled in a commemorative magazine, which will be inserted into The Journal Record on April 25.
